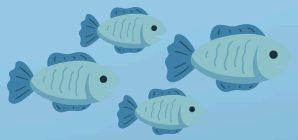
I like the darkness, oh yes, that's right.
I prefer the darkness more than the light.
Can you guess what I am?
I sleep during the day and only come out at night.
If you happen to see me, I'll surely give you a fright.
I'm wild and unfriendly, I'm sorry to say,
so if you spot me while I'm sleeping, please stay away.

I live in a cave and sleep upside down.
I have wings and use sound to find my way around.
Yes!!! You guessed it...

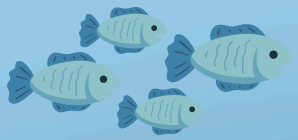
I am a Bat



I live in the Ocean, oh yes, that's right.
I love the Ocean, I swim around it all day and all night.

Can you guess what I am?

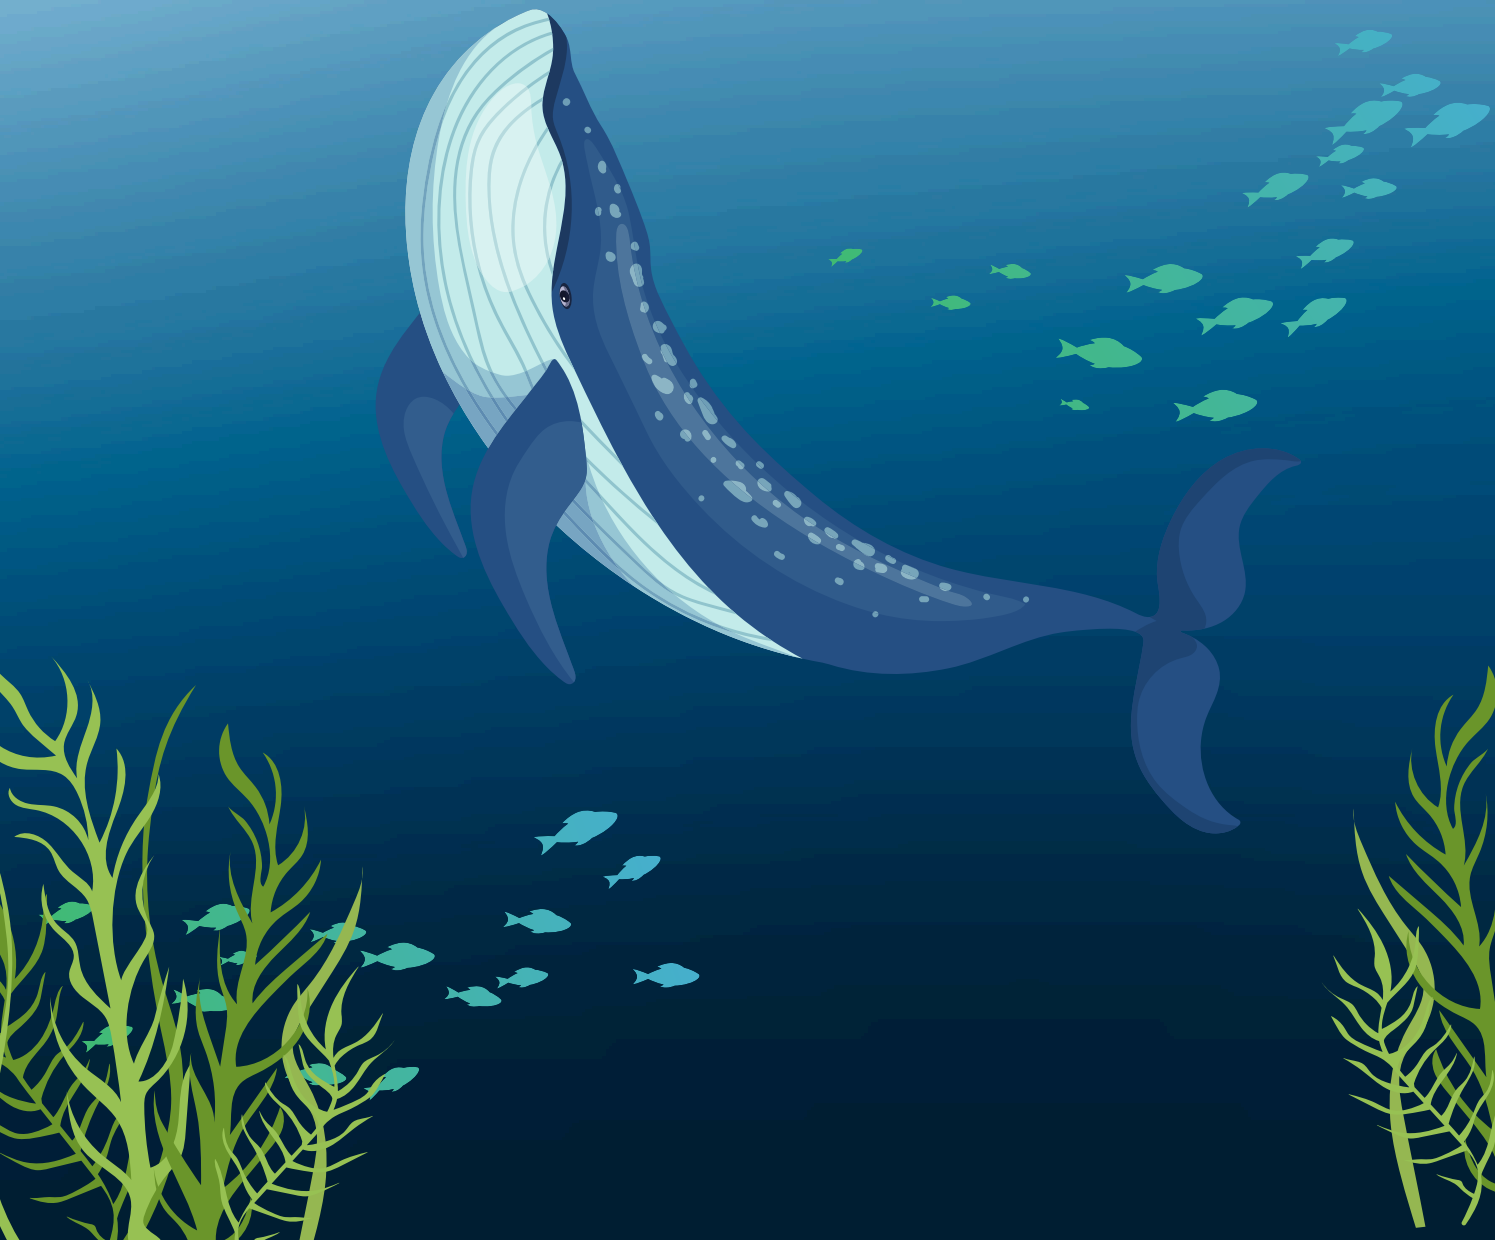
I am known for my size, I'm proud to say,
But I am a gentle giant, so no need to swim away.
I live in the Ocean, but I still breathe air.
I can hold my breath longer than any human can bear.



I live in the Ocean, yes, that is my home.
I can be found in a group, but most often on my own.
I mostly eat Krill, oh yes, that's true,
While swimming the Ocean, enjoying the view.

Yes!!! You guessed it...

I am a Blue Whale



I live in a river, oh yes, that's right.
I love just floating around and staying out of sight.

Can you guess what I am?

The river is my home, oh yes, that's true,
but I am able to walk around on land too.
I'm not very friendly, so please stay clear.
If you see one of me, be sure more are near.
I'm known for my big smile and sharp, pointy teeth and how I scare away all the animals I happen to meet.

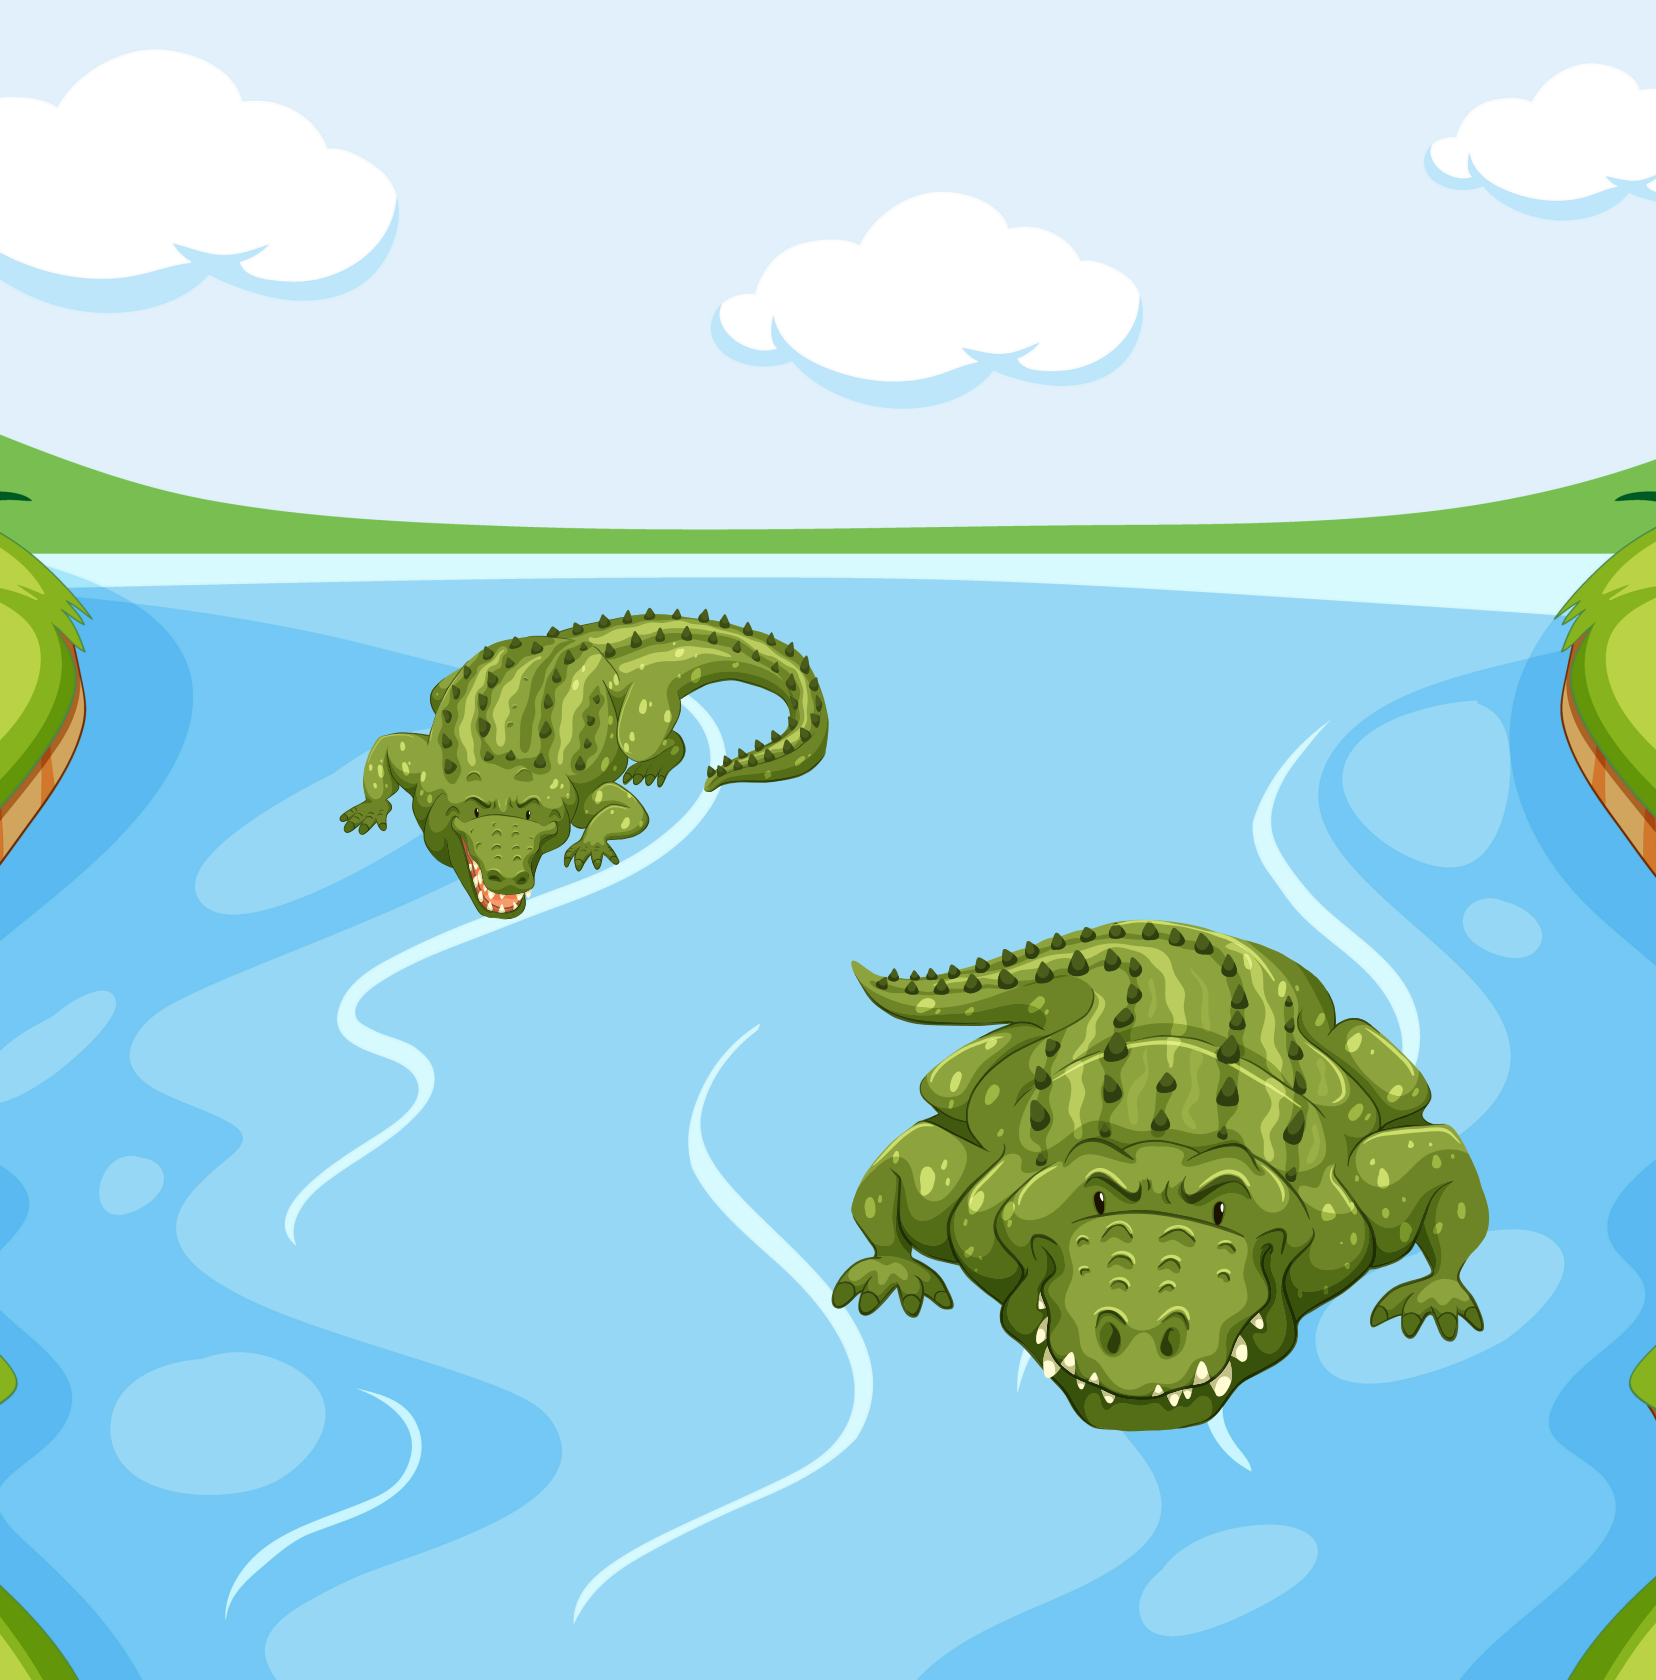
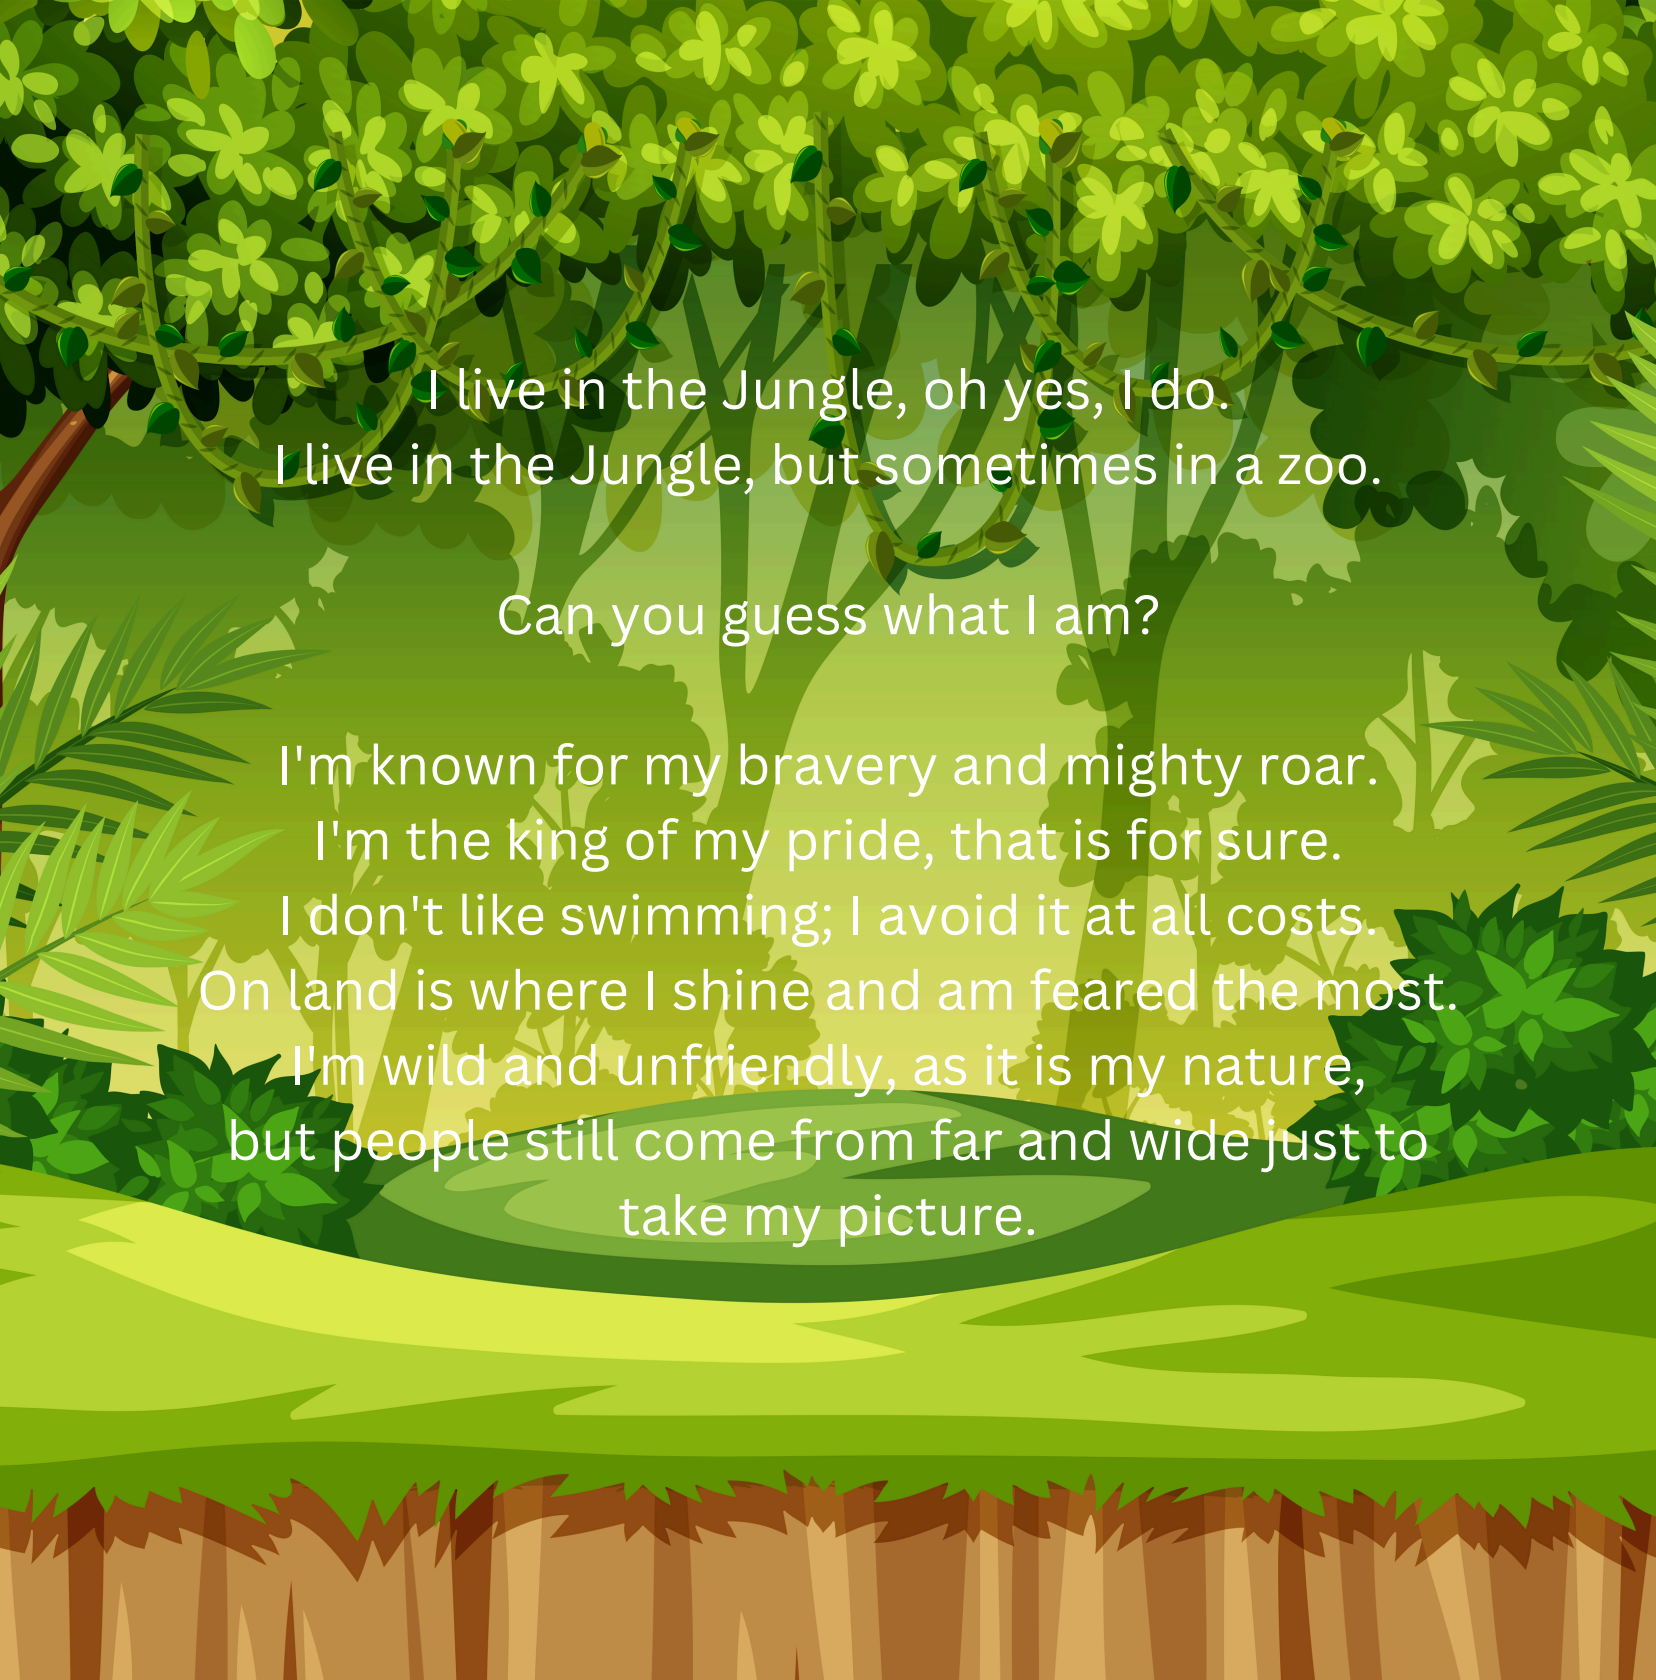
More often than not, I'm mistaken for a log,
floating along the river or laying on a rock.
Can you guess what I am?
Yes!!! You guessed it...

I am a Crocodile





I live in the Jungle, oh yes, I do.
I live in the Jungle, but sometimes in a zoo.
Can you guess what I am?
I'm known for my bravery and mighty roar.
I'm the king of my pride, that is for sure.
I don't like swimming; I avoid it at all costs.
On land is where I shine and am feared the most.
I'm wild and unfriendly, as it is my nature,
but people still come from far and wide just to take my picture.

I'm the king of the Jungle, and I make sure that it's known.
I protect my pride all on my own,
with my big build, sharp teeth, and claws.
It would be safer for you to stay indoors.
Can you guess what I am?
Yes!!! You guessed it...

I am a Lion

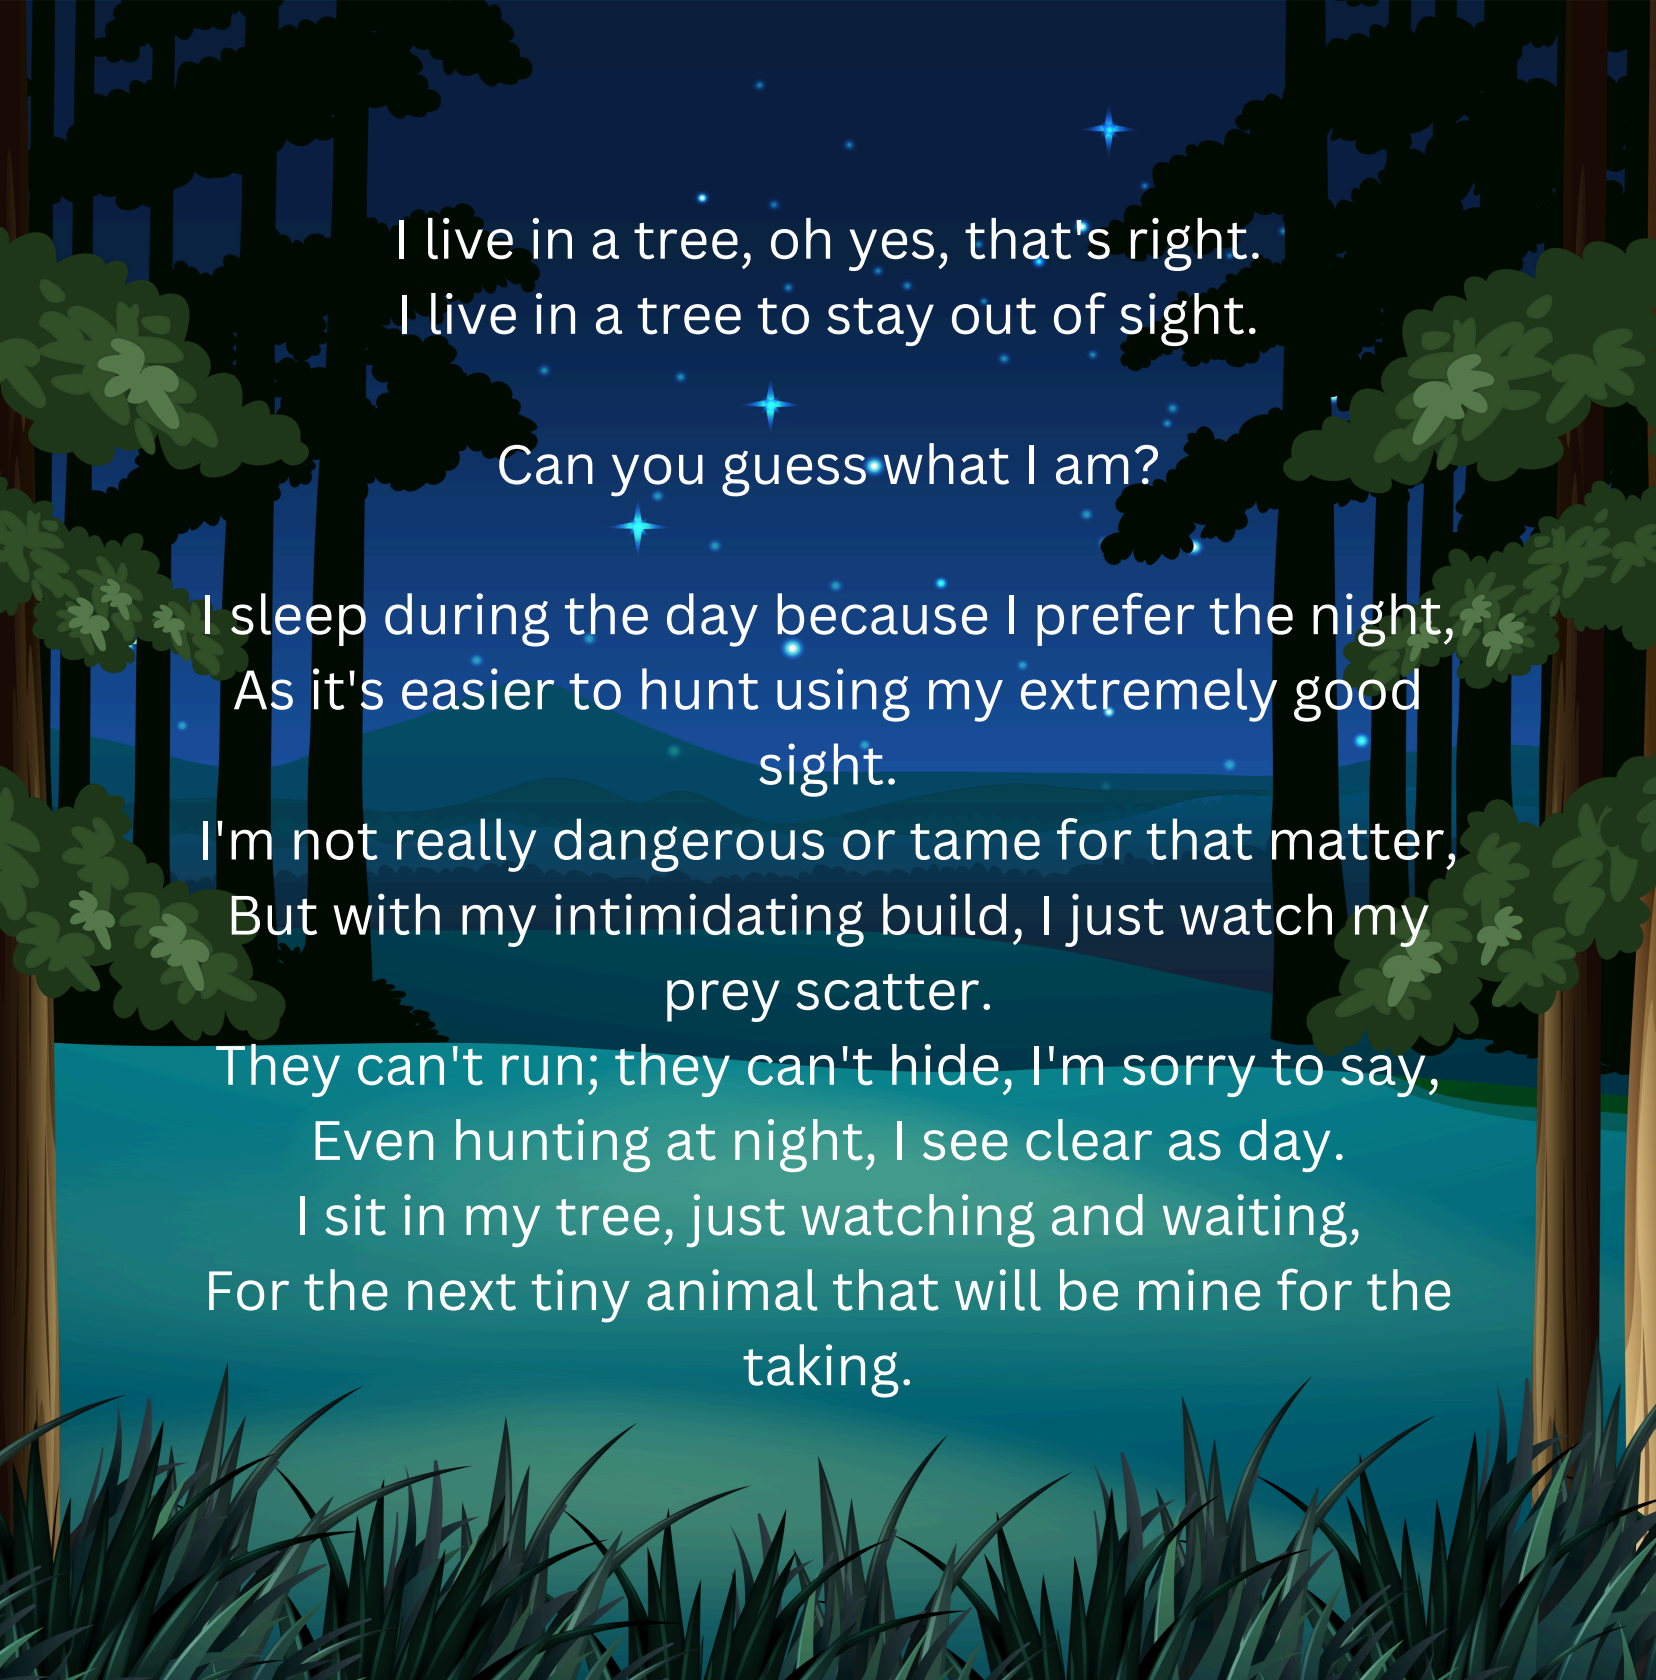
I live in your home, oh yes, I do.
I live in your garden sometimes too.
Can you guess what I am?
I have eight legs and eight googly eyes.
I use my webs to catch those pesky flies.
I'm normally found up in a corner,
just minding my business; I'm quite the loner.
Some people fear me, but I'm not sure why.
I keep my distance, and I'm very shy.

I come in all sizes, that part is true.
I can be harmful and poisonous too.
I keep to myself while I live in your home,
doing my best to make it a bug-free zone.

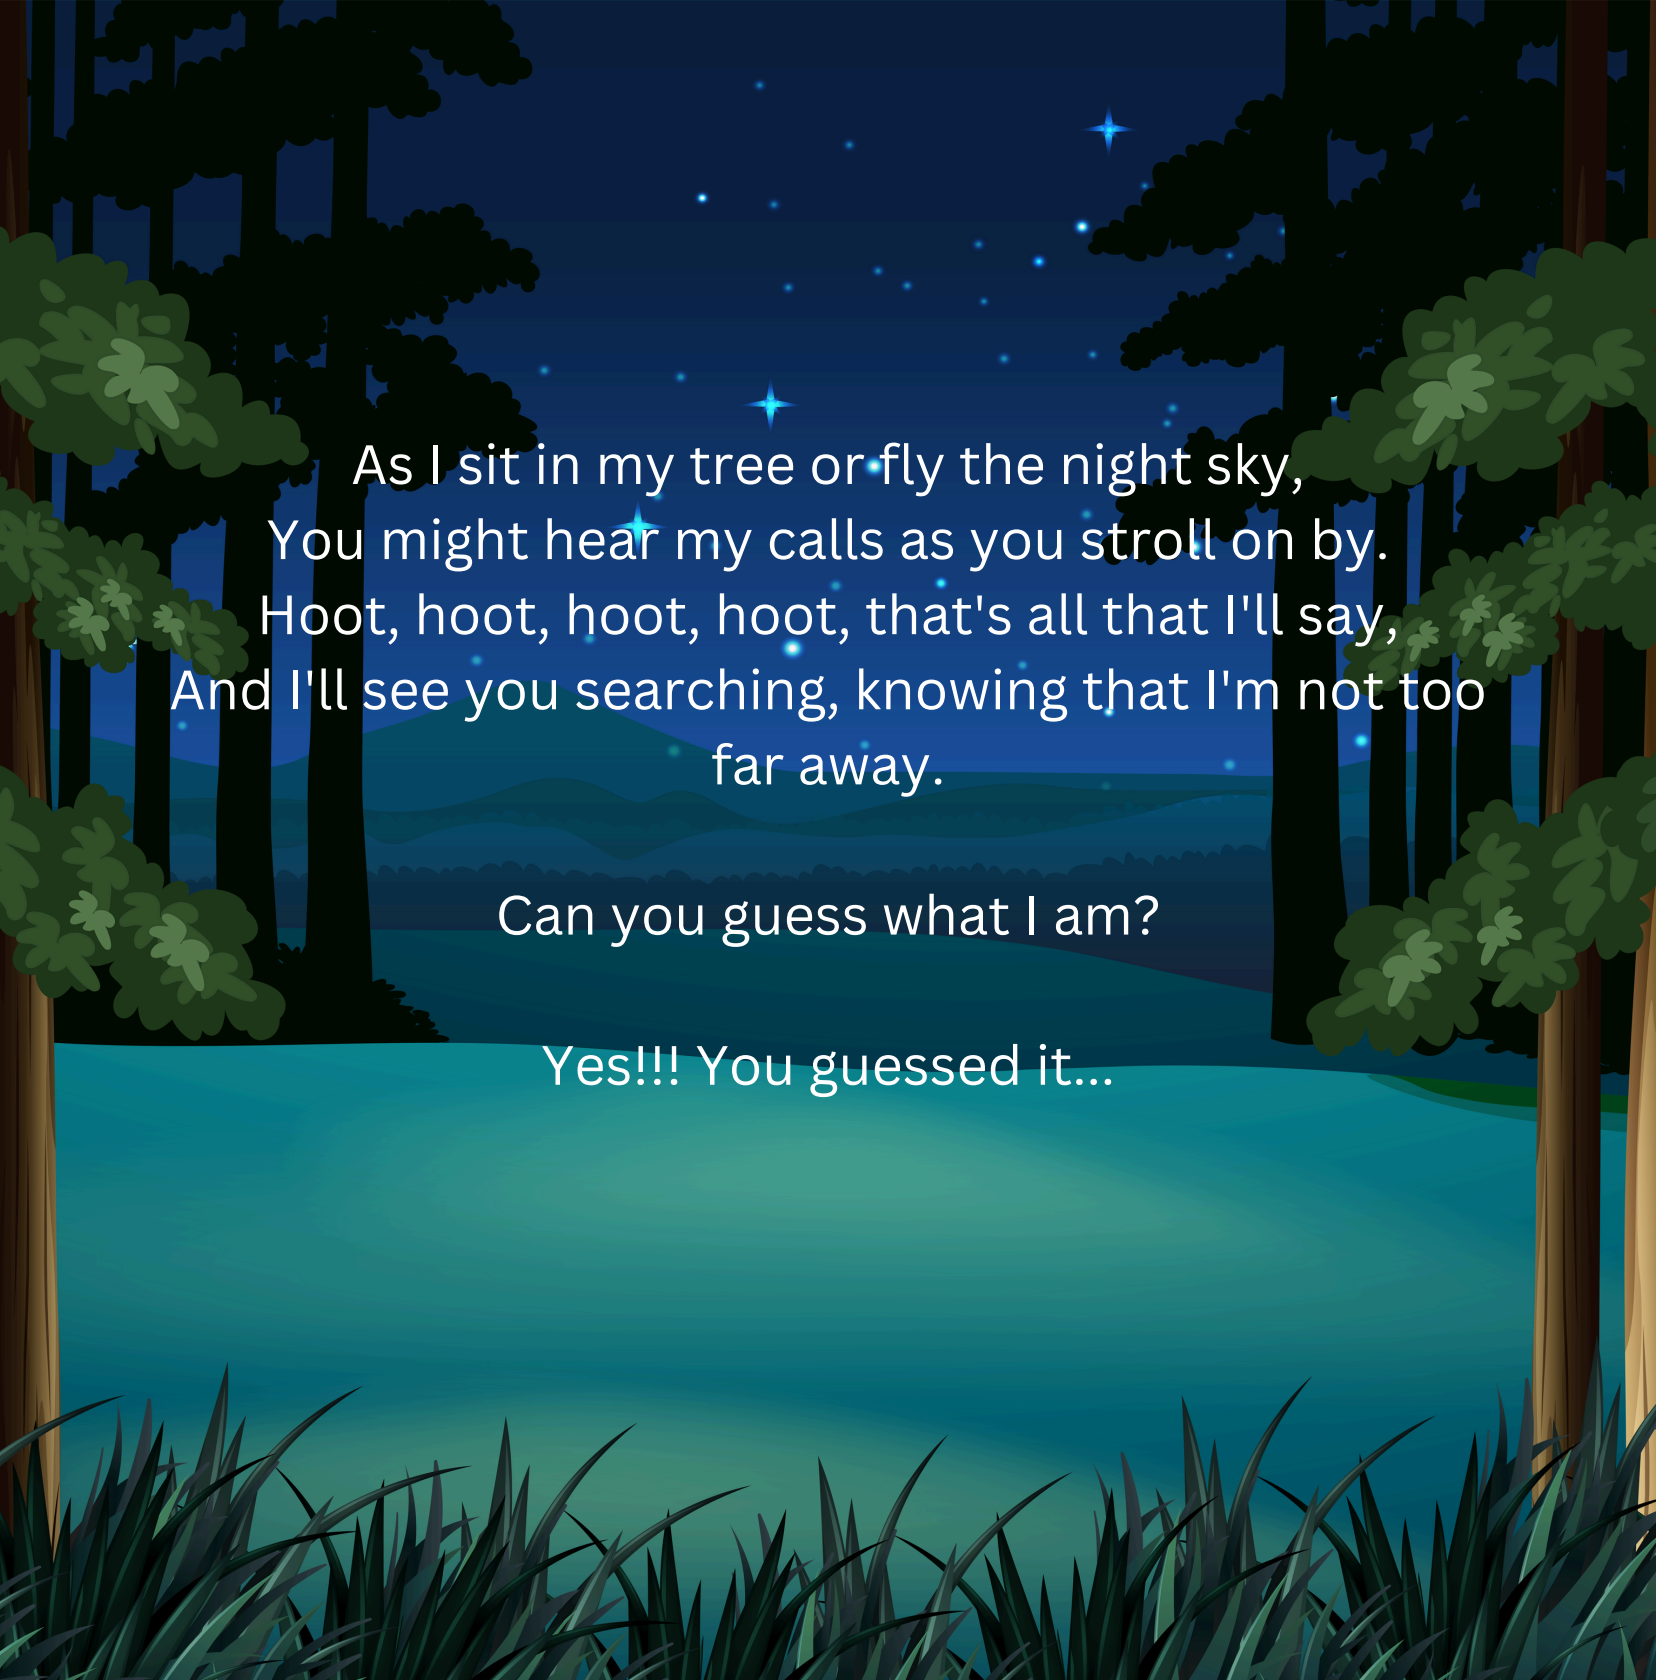
Can you guess what I am?

Yes!!! You guessed it...

I am a spider

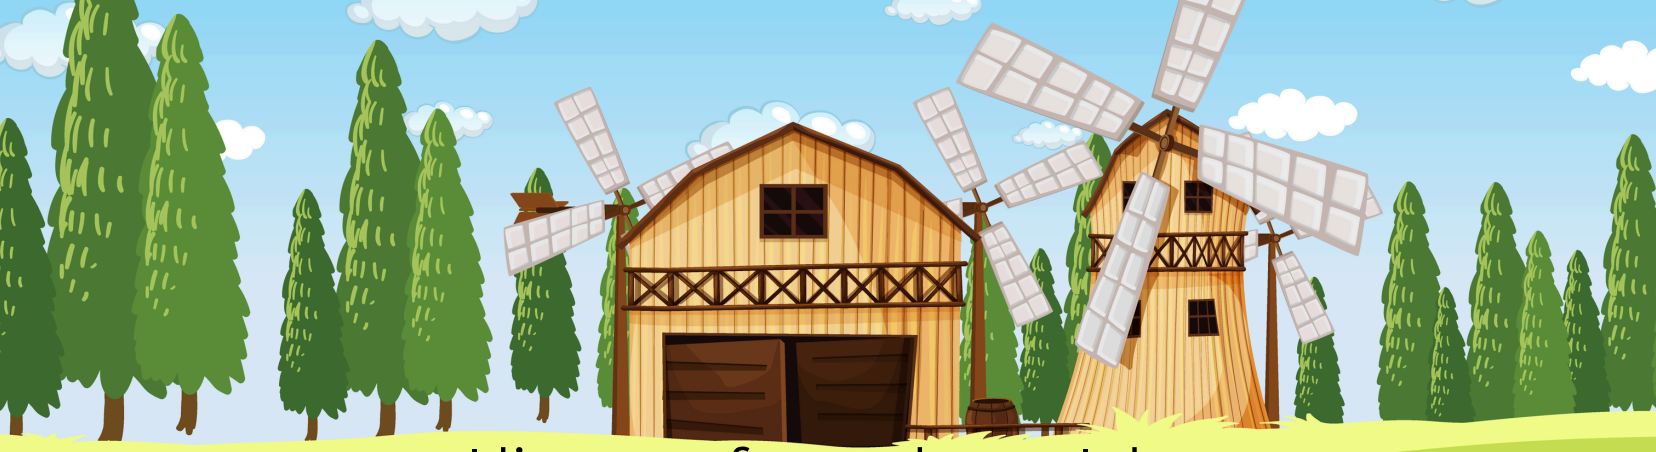


I live in a tree, oh yes, that's right.
I live in a tree to stay out of sight.
Can you guess what I am?
I sleep during the day because I prefer the night,
As it's easier to hunt using my extremely good sight.
I'm not really dangerous or tame for that matter,
But with my intimidating build, I just watch my prey scatter.
They can't run; they can't hide, I'm sorry to say,
Even hunting at night, I see clear as day.
I sit in my tree, just watching and waiting,
For the next tiny animal that will be mine for the taking.



As I sit in my tree or fly the night sky,
You might hear my calls as you stroll on by.
Hoot, hoot, hoot, hoot, that's all that I'll say,
And I'll see you searching, knowing that I'm not too far away.
Can you guess what I am?
Yes!!! You guessed it...

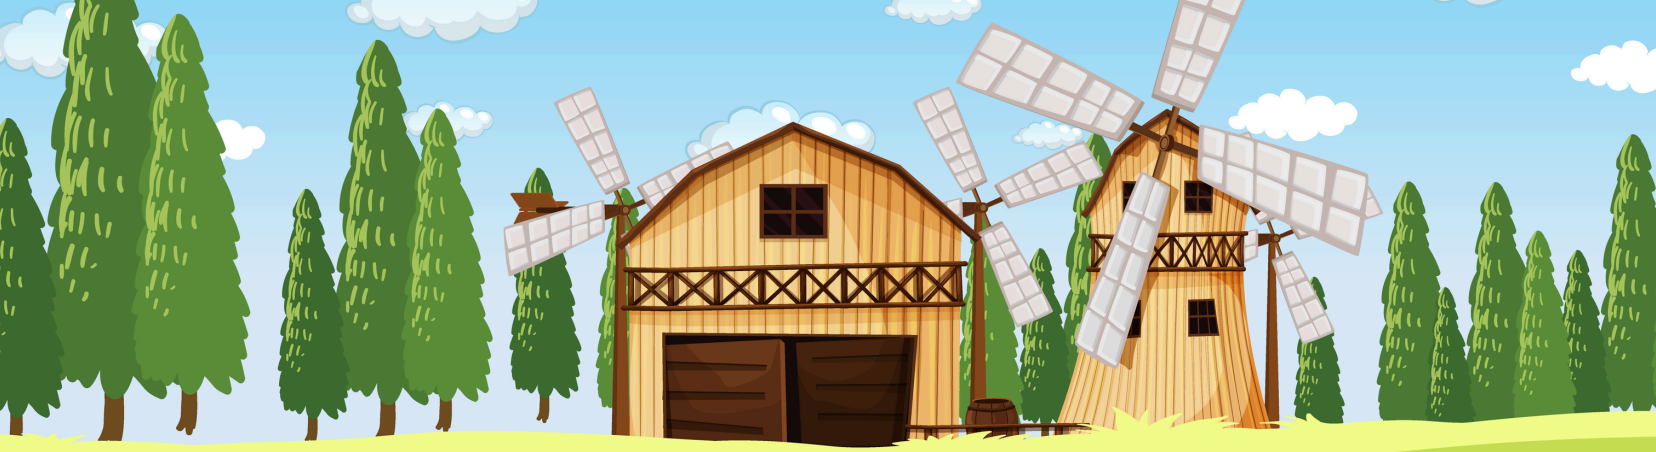
I am an Owl



I live on a farm, oh yes, I do.
I live on a farm with humans like you.

Can you guess what I am?

I spend my days grazing out on the farm,
just munching on grass all the day long.
With love and care, if that's how I'm treated,
I'll provide you with fresh milk by the liter.
I come in all colors like black and brown,
but mostly I'm found with white and black spots all around.
I'm big, heavy, and kind of scary,
but don't be fooled, I can be quite friendly.



So if you happen to visit my farm,
you might spot my herd just grazing along,
and if you wanted to grab our attention,
feed us apples or carrots to gain our affection.

Can you guess what I am?

Yes!!! You guessed it...

I am a cow
