You work hard,
But for someone else,
It's now time to change – begin working from inside,
Don't try to change others,
Start working towards yourself so that you can contribute to others,
Because what you become is much more valuable than what you are.
If not now, when?

In Chapter 1 – The Career: This chapter spotlights the ways you can learn for your career to dominate – your past, your thinking, your area of expertise, and your brand.

In Chapter 2 – The Passion: we will explore why you need to “starve the doubt,” block out old beliefs and embrace haters. Passion is to build on that foundation, guiding you through the tough process of beginning to follow your Passion. You will learn why it’s important to “know your passion” before you made headway to the world of careers.

Chapter 3 – The Paisa: explains why playing it safe is the most dangerous thing you can do— and how to stay mindful against great odds. These principles will guide you in your quest for success.

We have all read school textbooks that tell us to follow our academics. But while those books might offer an education path, how to implement that knowledge practically in our life remains unexplained.

This book will be honest and self-expressed. It will tear down the average mindset that has been spun so tightly around you by society. See “U” in “YOU” will help you unleash the power of obsession and then teach you how to take care of your PCP (Passion, Career & Paisa) to achieve your dreams.

“What you believe, You Achieve.”

— Akhilesh Telkar

Unfortunately, most people don't believe they can become successful. They wake up every morning, go to a job they hate, fill their time with endless distractions, and go home with a pay cheque, feeling sorry for themselves. It's not that they don't have the potential to become successful, because they do. What they don't realize is that they have all it takes to be successful.

You have picked this book because you want to be different, you want to do better and become the best version of yourself. You know you are meant for more, and this puts you ahead of most people. Let me tell you, being successful is an amazing feeling. You feel like a real-life superhero who is capable of doing the most incredible things. And this feeling keeps you motivated.

How to find your passion?

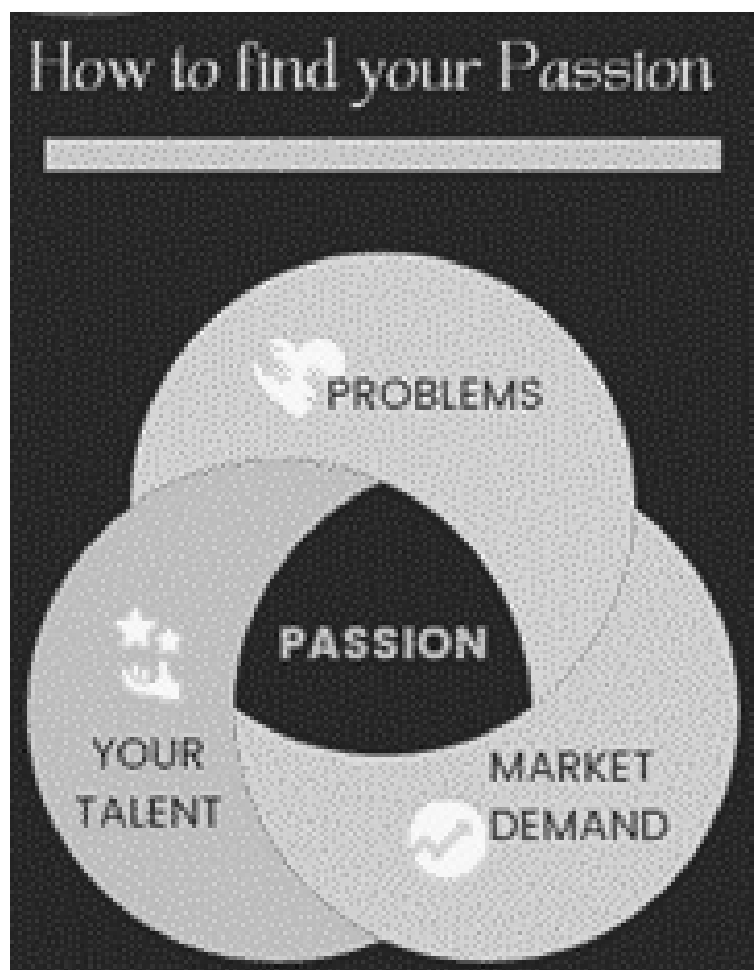

Most of the time, we get so unproductively busy in our day-to-day activities that we never think about the basic question: why am I here?

Have you ever asked, what's your purpose on this planet?

It is said that you are born twice on this planet - once when you are born and second when you know what's your calling and passion.

How to find your passion?

Identify the Problem, Know your Talent, Check the Market Demand
